The CSI Student branch at G.H. Patel College of Engineering and Technology (GCET), V.V. Nagar (region III) organised a technical programming contest "CODEVIE'16" under the Department of Computer Engineering on 20th Oct, 2016.

The contest was open for all college students regardless of their colleges and branches. The registrations started from 8th Oct, 2016 and lasted till 15th Oct, 2016. A total of 28 teams with 50 participants appeared for the contest with a zeal to learn something new. Students from D.D. U, A.D.I.T & B.I.T.S were also present during the contest.
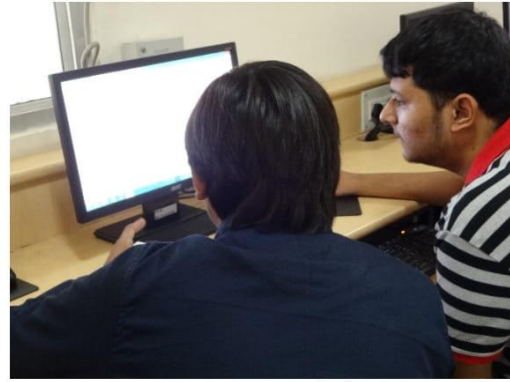

The contest began at 11:00 AM with a speech addressed by Dr. Maulika S. Patel, Faculty Advisor. The contest was conducted in two round– Elimination round and online programming round. The first round was online MCQ test of 45 minutes testing the participants basic 'C' language understanding. It was created on google forms. The second round was the programming round hosted on codechef(dot)com which lasted for 2.5 hours. At last, two teams emerged as winners and first runners up respectively.

The winners were Chinmay Patel and Niraj Rajai from Second year studying in Computer Department.

The first runners up were Shrey Shah and Jemish Pagadhar from Third year studying in Computer Department.
